Total: 272.00 €

Conclusion

This deliverable has a disproportionate amount of workload compared to the first two deliverables. This is due to the difficulties experienced during the analysis of the equirements, which were considerably vague, and our unfamiliarity with the framework provided, whose features were constantly explained much later than ideal, and an outrageous lack of documentation, resulting in having to delay or cut off certain features. In the end the project was barely completed on time.
